SECTION C: READING COMPREHENSION (10MARKS)

Read the passage and answer the question below in complete sentences.

Alfred, the white collar- worker

These days, labourers often receive far more money than office clerks. People who work in offices are frequently referred to as “white collar-workers” for the simple reason that they usually wear a collar and tie to go to work. Such is a human nature that many people are willing to sacrifice higher pay for the privilege of becoming white-collar workers. This can give rise to curious situations, as it did in the case of Alfred Bloggs, a dustman for the development corporation.

When he got married, Alfred was too embarrassed to talk about his job to his wife. He simply told her that he worked for the corporation. Every morning, he left home dressed in a fine black suit. He then changed into over-all and spent the next eight hours as a dustman. Before returning home, he took a shower and changed back into his suit. Alfred did this for two years and his fellow dustmen kept the secret.

Alfred’s wife has never discovered that he was dustman and she never will, for Alfred has just found another job. He will soon be working in an office as a junior clerk. Unfortunately, he will be earning only half as much as he used to, but he feels that this rise in status is worth the loss of money. From now on, he will wear his suit all day and others will call him, “Mr.Bloggs”, not “Alfred”.
