Essay Topic: Describe your movement from your house to your school campus.

Sample Essay:

Every morning, I leave my house and head to school. On my way, I see many interesting things. First, I pass by a busy market where people are buying and selling goods. Then, I see a large park where children play and adults exercise. Next, I walk past a petrol station, and finally, I cross a small bridge over a stream.

There are four important buildings on my route: the town hall, the post office, a hospital, and a church. The road is mostly paved, but there are some sections with potholes, especially during the rainy season.

Locating places is important for two reasons. First, it helps us find our way easily, especially in emergencies. Second, it allows us to navigate new areas without getting lost.
