Young people smoke for various reasons. Some of them smoke to show that they have grown up. Some smoke because they think it is a good adventure. And others, because of bad company. Some wanted to just try a cigarette but ended up as chain smokers because of the addictive substance in cigarette.

Smoking, according to medical doctors is very dangerous no matter the reason that causes an individual to do it.

It is said that cigarettes and drugs have become a particular concern in many countries of the world today. Cigarettes and drugs cause a lot of health hazards that are ignored by many. The risks of tuberculosis and HIV/AIDS are increased by smoking and drug addiction. When you smoke, you render your lungs vulnerable to tuberculosis. Your lungs lose their vitality there by causing problems in your respiratory tract. You become thin, weak and you may be unconscious. The continuous accumulation of nicotine in your organism becomes toxic and this leads to the destruction of your respiratory organs.

Smokers end up becoming drug addicts. Drug addiction is a dangerous phase of the smoking process. Addicts may use syringes to inject drugs into their bodies. This is when they can easily contract HIV/AIDS because the syringes may be contaminated. It has also been realized that most of the criminals today are the products of drug addiction.
