SECTION C: READING COMPREHENSION. (5 marks)

Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow.

Beautiful Cameroon!

Cameroon is often called 'Africa in miniature', as it contains the diversity of all of Africa within its borders. Its cultural diversity and modernity makes it a wonderful traveller's destination .In fact, it is said that if you haven't been to Cameroon, you haven't been to Africa. Here are some reasons why.

Beautiful cities in Cameroon make it very attractive. Cameroon's capital, Yaounde, and commercial capital, Douala, are worth a day or two of sightseeing. Yaounde is immaculately planned to be spread over seven hills. In addition to its layout, the city is clean and safe, with several places to visit, including ancient monuments and museums. Coastal Douala is a great place to visit to experience modern Cameroon.

The country has a vast bio diversity, the country has over 900 species of birds, over 300 species of animals and is among the richest countries in Africa in terms of biodiversity. As a result, if you are passionate about ecology and wildlife, there is a wide range of attractions that will satisfy your needs.

Talking about the culinary aspect, Cameroon has one of the most varied foods in Africa which has gained popularity all over the world. Besides, have you ever wondered where tea comes from? Wonder no more as you take a tour of the tea plantations located in Limbe (which also has a botanical garden) and the Ndawara Highlands in Bamenda.

If you are looking for some of the best beaches in Africa, then Kribi in the South region and Limbe in the Southwest region are two of the best places to go. Also, Buea is the capital of the Southwest region, and home to Mount Cameroon, a spectacular, active volcano standing 4023 metres (13,000 feet) above sea level. Mount Cameroon is one of the largest volcanoes in Africa, the highest peak in West Africa, and the fourth-highest peak in all of Africa.

There are over 500 hotels in Cameroon and, if you decide to visit a particular place, you will always find a cheap hotel to cater to your accommodation needs. The main airport is the Douala International Airport, while there is also the Yaounde International Airport and secondary airports in towns like Bafoussam in the West region, Garoua in the North region, and Bamenda in the Northwest region. With all these and many more, Cameroon is indeed Africa in miniature.

Answer the following questions:

- a) Why is Cameroon often called "Africa in miniature"? _____
- b) Why is the city of Yaounde an interesting place to visit? _____
- c) What is particular about the bio diversity of Cameroon? Give at least two aspects. _____
- d) Give two aspects in which the South west region of Cameroon makes it an attractive location for visitors? _____
- e) Imagine you are a tourist, would you like to visit Cameroon? Why? _____

SECTION D: COMPOSITION (5 marks) Write on one of the following topics

- 1) You are at school and your teacher needs to go to your house to meet your parents, give the location of your house to your teacher from your school.
 - Say the different steps your teacher has to take in order to reach your house.
 - Make use of correct prepositions in order to correctly locate your teacher.
- 2) During the holidays, you travelled and visited very attractive places, write a letter to your best friend to tell him/her how you enjoyed your holidays. Your name is Etah Brayan, and your friend's name is Emilia.
- 3) Internet does more harm than good to the young generation. Discuss.

SECTION D: COMPOSITION (5 marks)

Topic 1: Directions to Your House

Dear Teacher,

To get to my house from the school, you need to follow these steps:

1. Start from the school gate and turn left onto the main road.
2. Walk straight for about 200 meters until you reach the traffic light.
3. At the traffic light, turn right and continue walking for about 500 meters.
4. You will pass a supermarket on your left and a petrol station on your right.
5. After the petrol station, take the first left turn into a small street.
6. My house is the third house on the right, with a blue gate.

I hope these directions are clear. Thank you!

Topic 2: Letter to a Friend About Your Holiday

Dear Emilia,

I hope you are doing well. I am writing to tell you about my amazing holiday! I traveled to Limbe, a beautiful coastal town in the Southwest region of Cameroon. The beaches were stunning, and I visited the Limbe Botanical Garden, which was full of exotic plants and animals. I also climbed Mount Cameroon, which was challenging but rewarding. The view from the top was breathtaking!

I had so much fun and I wish you were there with me. I can't wait to hear about your holiday too!

Your friend, Etab Brayan

Topic 3: Internet Does More Harm Than Good to the Young Generation

The internet has become an integral part of our lives, especially for the younger generation. While it offers many benefits, such as access to information and educational resources, it also has several negative effects.

One major harm is the exposure to inappropriate content, which can lead to moral decay. Young people are also at risk of cyberbullying, which can have severe psychological effects. Additionally, excessive use of the internet can lead to addiction, affecting academic performance and social interactions.

In conclusion, while the internet has its advantages, its harmful effects on the young generation cannot be ignored. Parents and educators should take steps to monitor and guide young people's internet use to minimize these risks.

One measure to avoid fire incidents is to ensure that electrical appliances are properly maintained and not overloaded.

SECTION D: COMPOSITION (10 MARKS)

Essay Topic: Describe your movement from your house to your school campus.

Sample Essay:

Every morning, I leave my house and head to school. On my way, I see many interesting things. First, I pass by a busy market where people are buying and selling goods. Then, I see a large park where children play and adults exercise. Next, I walk past a petrol station, and finally, I cross a small bridge over a stream.

There are four important buildings on my route: the town hall, the post office, a hospital, and a church. The road is mostly paved, but there are some sections with potholes, especially during the rainy season.

Locating places is important for two reasons. First, it helps us find our way easily, especially in emergencies. Second, it allows us to navigate new areas without getting lost.

SCORING GUIDE:

- Grammar (Section A): 10 marks
- Vocabulary (Section B): 10 marks
- Comprehension (Section C): 10 marks
- Composition (Section D): 10 marks

Total: 40 marks

Note: The composition is subjective and can vary based on the student's creativity and writing skills. The provided essay is a sample and should be adapted to the student's personal experience.

SECTION C: COMPETENCE

READING COMPREHENSION (10 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer all the questions that follow it. Use complete English sentences in your answers

Recreation Time

The time people spend on recreational activities is a spice to life. Relaxation is the real purpose of activities we engage in. it is good to plan how to spend your recreation time. First, make a schedule by listing down the things you want to accomplish at a given time. Next, learn skills. Nurturing these skills may even lead to bigger things, such as career promotion. You should be active during recreation time. Sports and exercises may be considered recreational, but they are very important because they help you to be energized so that you may be more able to accomplish more activities. Also, entertain yourself in other ways. You may watch TV, go to a concert, take a walk to the park or beach, do fishing for fun, etc. Do things that you always wanted to do but did not have time doing before.

All age groups need recreation time. Older people like getting together as a group to afford better vacationing. When singles come together, they find themselves commiserating together and often find their soul mates quite accidentally. Most kids enjoy camping together. The places where most people like to spend their recreation time are parks, lakes, beaches, the mountains, and visiting ancient sites. These places are inviting to those in search of the quiet peace they find so hard to achieve during the work world. Recreation time has so many benefits. Family bonds are improved by sharing recreation time together. Therapeutic recreation uses treatment, education, and recreation services to help people with illnesses or disabilities to develop and enhance their health and well-being. Sports help to lower blood pressure and resting pulse rates. Social interaction through recreation promotes positive contact with others and removes fear, self-destructive and anti-social behavior. Recreation is a key to balance human development. It increases tourism and many community benefits.

SECTION B COMPETENCE

TASK 1: READING COMPREHENSION

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow. (10 marks)

Niam's wife had left him. I don't know what minor incident finally caused the crisis; what last straw broke this female camel's backs back. The important thing is that one morning, when he got up, Niam perceived to his astonishment that his wife had vanished, taking all her property with her. That, by the way, is how they always manage it, hence their nickname of fly-by-nights. A few days later, our family heard that Niam's wife had gone back to her father. So far, her behavior had followed then usual pattern. The unexpected thing was that she swore (it was said) never to return to her husband's house again. Some months passed. At first Niam put a fine face on the business, declaring cheerfully that he'd seen this kind of thing before, his wife had run on several previous occasions and had always come back at the end. After six months, Niam grew impatient. First of all he paid a visit one evening to Bikokolo, a well-respected old man and the village Solomon. He confessed (not without an effort, since his pride was enormous) that he wanted to get his wife back; he desperately needed her to run the race for him. In fact, he had even more pressing reason, since his wife's departure he had lost a whole season's groundnut crop through lack of anyone to work in his fields. Old Bikokolo, at the end of this interview strongly advised him to Old Bikokolo, at the end of this interview strongly advised him to swallow his vanity and pride, at least for a while. After all, he pointed out, the recovery of a rebellious wife was a serious matter. Niam reflected, as he went away, that it was easier to give such advice than take it.

After this, guided both by the old man's suggestions and his own code of behavior (which forbade him to take any direct part in bargaining deal, so as not to lose face in front of his wife), he got in-touch with his father-in-law through several intermediaries, somehow giving the impression that he had nothing to do with the move at all. The whole village soon found out that Niam had opened negotiations with his in-laws, and had even sent them presents. But this was nothing to the general astonishment felt, when Niam's father-in-law (having accepted his gifts) made the following pronouncement. "My daughter," he declared, 'is quite old enough to know what she wants – and more to the point, what she doesn't want." This complete rejection of a lawful demand by a mere father-in-law, too was regarded as completely scandalous. Everyone in the village began to wonder just what these people wanted.

Questions

1. Why did Niam's wife leave?

2. What does the phrase Niam 'put a fine face on the business', means?

3. Why did Niam go to confess to Bikokolo?

4. Why did the people in Bikokolo shock?

5. What did you learn from this story?

2. What does the phrase Niam 'put a fine face on the business', means?

It means that Niam tried to act as if everything was fine and pretended not to be affected by his wife's departure.

3. Why did Niam go to confess to Bikokolo?

Niam went to confess to Bikokolo because he wanted to get his wife back. He needed her to help him with his farm work, as he had lost a whole season's groundnut crop due to her absence.

4. Why did the people in Bikokolo shock?

The people in Bikokolo were shocked because Niam's father-in-law rejected Niam's lawful demand to return his wife, which was considered scandalous.

5. What did you learn from this story?

The story teaches us about the importance of communication and compromise in relationships. It also highlights the cultural expectations and the challenges faced when these expectations are not met.

TASK 2: COMPOSITION WRITING (10 MARKS)

Topic 1: What are your rights and obligations as a student in your school? Write down five rights and their matching obligations.

Sample Answer:

As a student, I have several rights and obligations in my school. Here are five rights and their corresponding obligations:

1. Right to Education: I have the right to receive quality education. Obligation: I must attend classes regularly and participate actively in learning activities.
2. Right to Safety: I have the right to study in a safe and secure environment. Obligation: I must follow school rules and avoid any behavior that could harm others or myself.
3. Right to Express My Opinions: I have the right to express my thoughts and opinions respectfully. Obligation: I must respect the opinions of others and avoid any form of discrimination or bullying.
4. Right to Use School Facilities: I have the right to use school facilities such as the library, laboratories, and sports equipment. Obligation: I must use these facilities responsibly and take care of them.
5. Right to Fair Treatment: I have the right to be treated fairly by teachers and peers. Obligation: I must treat others with fairness and respect, and follow the school's code of conduct.

Topic 2: Describe the notion of common offences and legal consequences in relation to the Cameroon court of law.

Sample Answer:

In Cameroon, common offences include theft, assault, drug trafficking, and corruption. These offences are punishable by law, and the legal consequences vary depending on the severity of the crime. For example, theft can result in imprisonment or fines, while drug trafficking can lead to long-term imprisonment or even life sentences. The Cameroon court of law ensures that justice is served by following legal procedures and providing fair trials. It is important for citizens to be aware of these laws to avoid committing offences and facing legal consequences.

Topic 3: What are the advantages and the disadvantages of a democratic system of government?

Sample Answer:

A democratic system of government has several advantages and disadvantages. The advantages include freedom of speech, equality, and the right to vote. Citizens can express their opinions freely and participate in decision-making processes. However, the disadvantages include the possibility of corruption, slow decision-making, and the risk of majority rule overshadowing minority rights. Despite these challenges, democracy remains one of the most popular forms of government because it promotes fairness and accountability.

Topic 4: Describe an important national event that always takes place in your country and which you participated in it.

Sample Answer:

One important national event in my country is the National Youth Day celebrated on February 11th. During this event, various activities take place, including parades, cultural performances, and speeches by government officials. I participated in the parade, where students from different schools marched to showcase unity and patriotism. The event is important because it promotes national unity and encourages young people to contribute to the development of the country.

Topic 2: Define what a cheque is, explain its importance in financial transactions, and describe the consequences of a bounced cheque.

A cheque is a written order from an account holder (the drawer) to their bank, instructing the bank to pay a specific amount of money to a person or organization (the payee). Cheques are important in financial transactions because they provide a secure and convenient way to transfer money without the need for cash. They are widely used for payments, such as paying bills, salaries, and purchases.

However, if a cheque bounces, it means the bank cannot honor the payment, usually due to insufficient funds in the drawer's account. The consequences of a bounced cheque can be severe:

1. Financial Penalties: The bank may charge the drawer a fee for the bounced cheque.
2. Legal Consequences: The payee may take legal action against the drawer for non-payment.
3. Damage to Credit Score: A bounced cheque can negatively affect the drawer's credit score, making it harder to obtain loans or credit in the future.
4. Loss of Trust: The drawer's reputation may be damaged, especially in business transactions, leading to a loss of trust from clients or partners.

TEXTO:

La salud y el medio que nos rodea están íntimamente relacionados. El aire que respiramos, el agua que bebemos, el entorno de trabajo o el interior de los edificios tienen una gran implicación en nuestro bienestar y nuestra salud. Por ese motivo, la calidad y la salubridad de nuestro entorno son vitales para una buena salud.

En los últimos años, asistimos a un aumento de la inquietud de los ciudadanos ante las posibles implicaciones sanitarias derivadas de problemas o catástrofes medioambientales. Recordemos por ejemplo, el accidente de las minas de Alnazcollar, el naufragio del petróleo "Prestige" frente a las costas de Galicia en noviembre de 2003, y a otros niveles, la preocupación por los materiales potencialmente tóxicos en contacto con el agua o los alimentos, la emisión de antenas y dispositivos de telefonía móvil, etc.

Según afirma la Organización Mundial de la Salud (OMS) en su definición del medio ambiente y salud, dentro del concepto, se incluyen tanto los efectos patológicos directos de las sustancias químicas, la radiación y algunos agentes biológicos, así como los efectos (con frecuencia indirectos) en la salud y el bienestar derivados del medio físico, psicológico, social y estático en general; incluida la vivienda, el desarrollo urbano, el uso del terreno y el transporte.

6) In your opinion, what should be done to avoid fire incidents? (1 mark)

One measure to avoid fire incidents is to ensure proper installation and maintenance of electrical systems to prevent short circuits.

SECTION D: COMPOSITION WRITING (10 MARKS)

Topic 1: Describe your movement from your house to your school Campus.

In your work:

- State four things you see on your way to school, four important buildings, and the nature of the road.
- State two importance of locating places.

Sample Composition:

Every morning, I walk from my house to my school campus. On my way, I see many interesting things. First, I pass by a busy market where people are buying and selling goods. Next, I see a large park where children play and adults exercise. Then, I walk past a petrol station where cars are refueling. Finally, I see a church where people gather for prayers.

Along the way, I also notice four important buildings. The first is the town hall, where local government meetings are held. The second is the public library, where students and researchers go to study. The third is the hospital, which provides medical care to the community. The fourth is the police station, which ensures safety and security in the area.

The road to my school is mostly paved, but some parts are rough and uneven. There are many potholes, especially during the rainy season, which makes walking difficult.

Locating places is important for two reasons. First, it helps us find our way to different destinations, especially in unfamiliar areas. Second, it allows us to access essential services like hospitals, schools, and markets quickly in case of emergencies.

Topic 2: Volunteering Service is one of the things that people like to do. In your opinion, say why it is important to people doing it and to the society as well.

In your composition:

- Say who is a volunteer and what he or she does.

Sample Composition:

Volunteering is an act of offering one's time and skills to help others without expecting payment. A volunteer is someone who willingly participates in activities that benefit the community or individuals in need. Volunteers can work in various fields, such as education, healthcare, environmental conservation, and disaster relief.

Volunteering is important for both the individual and society. For the individual, it provides a sense of purpose and fulfillment. It allows people to develop new skills, gain experience, and build relationships with others. Volunteering also boosts self-confidence and improves mental health by reducing stress and anxiety.

For society, volunteering plays a crucial role in addressing social issues and improving the quality of life for many people. Volunteers help to provide essential services, especially in areas where resources are limited. They also promote unity and cooperation within communities by bringing people together to work towards common goals.

In conclusion, volunteering is a valuable activity that benefits both the individual and society. It is a way to make a positive impact on the world while also growing personally and professionally.

Topic 3: Write about your first experience in college Mongo Beti.

In your work:

- Say why you chose to come to college Mongo Beti.
- How can you contribute to the well-being of the college.
- What are your plans in order to succeed at the end of the academic year.

Sample Composition:

My first experience at College Mongo Beti was both exciting and challenging. I chose to come to this college because of its excellent reputation for academic excellence and its strong focus on discipline and character development. I knew that studying here would provide me with the knowledge and skills needed to achieve my future goals.

To contribute to the well-being of the college, I plan to participate actively in extracurricular activities and volunteer for community service projects. I will also strive to maintain a positive attitude and encourage my peers to do the same. By being respectful and responsible, I hope to create a supportive and inclusive environment for everyone.

In order to succeed at the end of the academic year, I have set clear goals for myself. I will attend all my classes regularly, complete my assignments on time, and seek help from my teachers whenever I face difficulties. I will also dedicate time to self-study and revision to ensure that I fully understand the material. By staying focused and disciplined, I am confident that I will achieve success.

Technology is developing very fast. While this is good news because it provide us with new opportunities to communicate and work, there is also a dawn slide on this progress-cyber crime. The development of technology and the availability of internet to most of the public is a double edged sword.

The internet has became integral to the life of today's generation of people. They do everything on the internet from shopping to staying In contact with their friends on social media. But they also share their personal information on online and many of them get hacked by cybercriminals. So it has now become risky to trust the internet.

As more and more people especially the younger generation, use the internet, it has become imperative to find ways of protecting sensitive informative. If a computer doesn't have proper security controls then it has a high chance of getting infected by malware. Personal information can be stolen and used for criminal activities. With the millions of websites infected with malware and spy programs, hackers can easily gain access to many computers.

Installing anti-virus software on your computer can keep your system clean from most attacks. Updating the software regularly and browsing only on secure site can also reduce risks. Not clicking on links in emails from unknown sources on opening mails in spam folder could also keep you safe. If you open such links and down load any applications containing virus, your computer will be infected as well and may start functioning improperly.

Enabling a firewall can also reinforce security. Fire walls act as protective layers that block access to unwanted or harmful data that comes from the internet. If you want to have a strong fire wall, other people will not be able to penetrate into your network unless they are connected to your network.

SECTION D: COMPOSITION WRITING (10 marks)

Write a composition of 250 words on any one of the following topics of your choice.

Topic 1: Media and Communication

Media and communication are essential for the well-being of society. Media refers to the various means of communication, such as television, radio, newspapers, and the internet, that reach or influence people widely. Communication is the process of exchanging information, ideas, and messages.

There are different types of media, including print media (newspapers, magazines), broadcast media (TV, radio), and digital media (internet, social media). These media types play a crucial role in society by providing information, education, and entertainment. They help people stay informed about current events, connect with others, and make informed decisions.

However, some media can have disadvantages. For example, fake news on social media can mislead people, and excessive use of digital media can lead to addiction and reduced productivity. Despite these drawbacks, media and communication remain vital for the progress and development of society.

Topic 2: Fiction and Facts

Fiction refers to stories or narratives that are created from imagination and are not based on real events. Facts, on the other hand, are statements that can be proven true based on evidence or reality.

For example, a novel like “Harry Potter” is fiction, while a scientific report on climate change is based on facts. Both fiction and facts have an impact on society. Fiction can inspire creativity and provide entertainment, while facts help people make informed decisions and understand the world around them.

Topic 3: Youth and WhatsApp

Nowadays, youth spend most of their time on WhatsApp, neglecting their studies. One reason for this habit is the addictive nature of social media, which provides instant gratification. Another reason is peer pressure, as young people want to stay connected with their friends.

This practice can have serious consequences on their future lives, such as poor academic performance and limited career opportunities. To remedy this, parents can set limits on screen time and encourage their children to focus on their studies. They can also provide alternative activities, such as sports or reading, to reduce dependency on social media.

SECTION C: READING COMPREHENSION (10 marks)

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow

Who needs Science and Technology?

Stop for a moment and think what has science done for you? Can you wake up in the morning if you don't have an alarm clock/ if you didn't have a phone, would you be able to keep in touch with your friends easily? And what about the programmes on the radio and on TV? Would you be able to stay informed and entertained if you did not have them? What about those antibiotics that you took last time you were ill? Would you have recovered if you had not taken them? The truth is that science and technology affect us all in the modern world.

Science has changed what we eat and the way that we eat. Scientists have developed new varieties of corn, wheat and rice as well as new fertilisers and pesticides. These have increased the amount of food we can grow and have changed the way we grow food. This has also made some foods less healthy than the food produces by old fashioned farming ways.

Science has changed health care. Most children in the world are now vaccinated against diseases like polio and small pox, so they do not get the diseases. Modern antibiotics can cure diseases that used to be life-threatening and dangerous. If we did not use antibiotics, many people would die from simple wounds.

The modern world relies on electricity. As long as we have electricity, we are able to use all the modern equipment that has been invented to make our homes more comfortable and industries more productive. There are many things we cannot do unless we have electricity. We can't use a fridge for example if there is no electricity.

And finally, science and technology has made us more active citizens. We are more informed, we can make better decisions as consumers and voters, and we are more aware of the problems facing the places we live in. As long as we have better access to information, we will be able to continue to find solutions to problems that affect our environments.

Questions

1. How has science changed health care?

2. Show two ways in which science and technology has changed our eating habits.

3. Explain two ways in which electricity has made our lives more comfortable.

4. Does science and technology affect us all in the modern world? How?

5. What is your opinion on science and technology?

SECTION D: COMPOSITION (10 mark)

4. Does science and technology affect us all in the modern world? How?

Yes, science and technology affect everyone in the modern world. They influence our daily lives through innovations like smartphones, electricity, and modern medicine. They also help us stay informed, make better decisions, and solve environmental problems.

5. What is your opinion on science and technology?

(This is an opinion-based question, so answers may vary. Example:)

Science and technology have greatly improved our lives by making tasks easier, improving health care, and connecting people globally. However, they also come with challenges like environmental degradation and over-reliance on technology.

SECTION D: COMPOSITION (10 marks)

1. Cyber Criminality

What is cyber criminality?

Cyber criminality refers to illegal activities conducted through the internet or digital means, such as hacking, identity theft, and online fraud.

Examples of cyber criminality:

1. Hacking: Unauthorized access to computer systems to steal data or disrupt operations.
2. Phishing: Tricking individuals into revealing personal information like passwords or credit card numbers.

3. Online scams: Fraudulent schemes designed to deceive people into sending money or personal information.
4. Malware distribution: Spreading malicious software to damage or gain unauthorized access to systems.

Three things that should be done to fight against cyber criminality:

1. Increase cybersecurity measures: Governments and organizations should invest in stronger cybersecurity systems to protect data.
2. Public awareness campaigns: Educate people about the dangers of cybercrime and how to protect themselves online.
3. Strict laws and penalties: Enforce stricter laws and penalties for cybercriminals to deter illegal activities.

2. The Internet

What is the internet?

The internet is a global network of computers that allows people to share information and communicate with each other.

Three advantages of the internet to a student:

1. Access to information: Students can easily research and find information for their studies.
2. Online learning: The internet provides access to educational resources, courses, and tutorials.
3. Communication: Students can communicate with teachers and peers through email, video calls, and online forums.

Three importance of the internet to the workers of your community:

1. Remote work: Workers can work from home or other locations, increasing flexibility.
2. Access to global markets: Businesses can reach customers worldwide through online platforms.
3. Efficiency: The internet allows for faster communication and collaboration among workers.

Three disadvantages of the internet:

1. Cybercrime: The internet is a platform for illegal activities like hacking and fraud.
2. Addiction: Excessive use of the internet can lead to addiction and negatively impact mental health.

3. Misinformation: The internet can spread false information, leading to confusion and harm.

What do you think about the internet?

(Opinion-based answer. Example:)

The internet is a powerful tool that has transformed the way we live, work, and communicate. While it offers many benefits, it also comes with challenges like cybercrime and misinformation. Overall, it is an essential part of modern life.

SECTION C : READING (10marks)

Read the following passage carefully and answer the question that follows.

Regional elections in Cameroon.

In September 2020, The Cameroonian President announced the country's first regional elections. On 6th December 2020, Cameroonians went to the polls to elect their regional councilors. These polls' councils were provided for in the 1996 constitution in a move towards decentralization. The presidential decree spelt out the distribution of the seats in the regional council in the 58 different divisions of Cameroon. A total of 900 seats nationwide were distributed among the 90 councilors who were elected per region. The regions elected 70 councilors who have limited powers on local issues. Traditional chieftains elected a further 20 councilors per region to represent them. In this way, the socio-cultural make-up of each region is represented.

The distribution of seats among the councilors from divisions depends on several parameters. Experts in decentralization explain that the quota per division was defined by two main criteria;

- The number of villages in each division.
- The demographic weight or population density. Consequently, the divisions with greater.

Populations are allocated greater numbers of Regional councilors. The same principle holds for the number of traditional chiefdoms present in each division.

SECTION D: COMPOSITION (10 marks)

Topic 1: Letter to the Youth President

Sample Letter:

Dear Mr. Nunkam Ayick, I am writing to you as Tambe Ashu, a concerned member of our community, to discuss the importance of human rights and responsibilities. As you know, every human being is born free, but with freedom comes responsibility. Below are four rights and their corresponding responsibilities:

1. Right to Education: Every individual has the right to education. However, it is their responsibility to attend school regularly and respect the rules of the institution.
2. Right to Freedom of Speech: Everyone has the right to express their opinions. However, they must ensure that their speech does not harm or offend others.
3. Right to Equality: All individuals have the right to be treated equally. It is their responsibility to treat others with the same respect and fairness.
4. Right to Security: Every person has the right to live in a safe environment. It is their responsibility to report any suspicious activities to the authorities.

I hope this letter serves as a reminder of the importance of balancing rights with responsibilities. Yours sincerely, Tambe Ashu P.O Box 70, Obili, Yaoundé.

Topic 2: Speech on School Rules and Regulations

Sample Speech:

Dear fellow students, As the president of the student council, I want to remind you of the importance of respecting school rules and regulations. Every school has rules that must be followed, and those who violate them will face consequences. Below are three rights and responsibilities of students:

1. Right to Education: Every student has the right to learn in a safe and conducive environment. It is their responsibility to attend classes regularly and participate actively.
2. Right to Freedom of Expression: Students have the right to express their opinions. However, they must do so respectfully and without disrupting the learning process.
3. Right to Fair Treatment: Every student has the right to be treated fairly by teachers and peers. It is their responsibility to treat others with respect and kindness.

However, when students go against the law, they face consequences. For example:

1. Cheating in Exams: Students who cheat may face suspension or expulsion.
2. Bullying: Students who bully others may face disciplinary action or legal consequences.

Let us all strive to respect the rules and create a positive learning environment for everyone. Thank you.

GOOD LUCK!

SECTION C: Reading comprehension (10 marks). Carefully read the text below and answer the questions given in good and well-polished English.

Many people die each year as a result of accidents in the work place. While some traditional occupations such as fishing and farming are fairly safe, there are still some dangers. Working conditions are often poor and there are few inspectors and safety experts to advise farmers and fishermen. Workers do not always wear protective clothing or know how to use equipment safely. For example, farmers use insecticides to spray their crops. These are poisonous, but many farmers do not wear goggles to protect their eyes or masks to prevent them from breathing in the spray.

The construction industry is responsible for many deaths, injuries and illnesses. Some construction workers labour industry conditions without masks or goggles. Accidents happen during construction work. Builders do not always use suitable scaffolding or equipment such as proper ladders on building sites. Welders join pieces of metal through a welding process. This process uses electric current and special welding rod that gives off dangerous sparks. Sometimes welders do not protect their eyes and hands when they use welding equipment. There are a growing number of commercial motorcycles riders in Cameroon and not all drivers are trained to drive safely. In 2013, there were 3933 deaths in the country because of motorcycle accident alone! Is enough being done to warn people about these dangers? Is enough attention being paid to the advice of safety officers? What do you think?

SECTION D: Composition (10 marks)

Topic 1: Imagine that you saw (came across) a ghastly motor accident last week when coming back from school, recount the scene.

Sample Answer: Last Tuesday, while returning home from school, I witnessed a horrifying motor accident near the market square. It was around 5 PM, and the roads were busy with vehicles and pedestrians. Suddenly, a speeding motorcycle collided with a mini-bus that had stopped suddenly due to traffic congestion. The impact was so severe that the motorcyclist was thrown several meters away, landing unconscious on the ground. His helmet flew off, revealing a bleeding head. Passersby quickly gathered around the scene, calling for help. Some administered first aid, while others flagged down a taxi to rush the injured man to the nearest hospital. I felt deeply shaken by the incident and realized the importance of road safety.

Topic 2: Write a letter to the principal of your school to tell him how to administer a first aid assistance to a student who has fainted during a sport and physical exercise lesson and he is bleeding on his nose.

Sample Letter:

GBHS Ntinkeu

To:
The Principal
GBHS Ntinkeu

From:
Traupen Ajuatsa

Subject: Administration of First Aid Assistance

Dear Sir,

During a recent sports and physical exercise lesson, one of our students fainted and started bleeding from the nose. In such situations, it is crucial to administer first aid promptly. Here are the steps to follow:

1. Lay the student flat on the ground and elevate their legs slightly to improve blood circulation.
2. Tilt their head backward gently to ensure the airway is clear.
3. Pinch the soft part of the nose firmly for about 10 minutes to stop the bleeding.
4. Provide reassurance and monitor their condition until they regain consciousness.

I hope these guidelines will help in handling similar emergencies effectively. Thank you for your attention.

Yours sincerely,
Traupen Ajuatsa

Topic 3: Many people are constantly smoking cigarettes in your community and this is causing a lot of health problems and disturbing their well-being and that of their neighbors. Write a letter to your uncle to tell him five consequences of smoking and propose three measures to be adopted to stop smoking.

Sample Letter:

GBHS Dschang
P.O. Box 22 Menoua
Date: [Insert Date]

To:
Uncle Jude Assakang

From:
Jude Assakang

Subject: Consequences of Smoking and Proposed Measures

Dear Uncle,

Smoking has become a serious issue in our community, causing numerous health problems. Below are five major consequences of smoking:

1. Lung cancer and other respiratory diseases.
2. Heart attacks and cardiovascular diseases.
3. Premature aging and skin damage.
4. Reduced fertility and complications during pregnancy.
5. Secondhand smoke exposure harming non-smokers.

To combat this problem, I propose the following measures:

1. Organize awareness campaigns to educate people about the dangers of smoking.
2. Impose stricter regulations on cigarette sales and advertising.
3. Encourage smokers to seek professional help through counseling and therapy.

Let us work together to create a healthier environment for everyone.

Warm regards,
Jude Assakang

During wars the Red Cross play an important part. They send supplies to both sides. The Red Cross are not interested in the causes of wars, or in who is right or wrong. Their only aim is to help those who are wounded or sick. That is why, during a war, they send help to both sides.

Hurricanes are strong winds which destroy houses and bring down trees. Red Cross groups from many countries offer tents and blankets, food and medicine to the homeless survivors. Sometime there are earthquakes which destroys people's homes. The Red Cross sends workers and supplies to help. Sometimes the rain fail for several years and people in the dry regions begin to die of hunger and famine. Then the Red Cross will send people to set up feeding centers. At other times the problem is just the opposite; -too much water –a country or part of the country may suffer from floods, and the people's crops are destroyed. They are glad to receive Red Cross workers who are can give them food until their crops have grown again. Every year this great organization helps thousands of unhappy people all over the World.

SECTION D: Writing (10 marks)

Topic 1: Describe the town that you like most in Cameroon.

Sample Answer:

The town I like most in Cameroon is Limbe. It is located in the South-West region of the country, near the Atlantic Ocean. Limbe is known for its beautiful beaches, such as Down Beach and Limbe Wildlife Centre, where you can see various animals like gorillas and chimpanzees. The town is also famous for its botanical gardens, which are a great place for relaxation and learning about plants.

The main activities in Limbe include fishing, tourism, and agriculture. Many people visit Limbe to enjoy its natural beauty and the warm hospitality of its people. The hygienic conditions in Limbe are generally good, with clean streets and well-maintained public spaces. I admire Limbe because of its peaceful environment, rich culture, and the opportunity it offers to connect with nature.

Topic 2: Write a letter to your brother about emergency services and volunteering.

Sample Answer:

Epossi Rita
GHS Ntinkeu
PO Box 22
Menoua, Cameroon

Dear Brother,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to tell you more about emergency services and the importance of volunteering. In our village, many people may not be aware of how emergency services work, so I want to share some information with you.

There are several organizations that provide emergency assistance, such as the Red Cross, Médecins Sans Frontières, and UNICEF. These organizations help people in times of crisis, such as during wars, natural disasters, and famines.

There are three types of people who often need emergency assistance:

1. Victims of natural disasters (e.g., earthquakes, floods).
2. People affected by wars (e.g., wounded soldiers, displaced families).
3. Those suffering from famine or disease (e.g., malnourished children, sick individuals).

It is important to voluntarily assist victims of any catastrophe for several reasons:

1. Saving lives: Volunteers can provide immediate help to those in need.
2. Reducing suffering: By offering support, we can help people recover faster.
3. Promoting solidarity: Volunteering brings communities together and fosters a sense of unity.

I hope this information is helpful. Please share it with others in the village so that everyone can understand the importance of emergency services and volunteering.

Yours sincerely,
Epossi Rita

1. Write an article in your school magazine called The Voice, on causes and consequences of pollution and means of remediation. Your name is Shulika Mike.

Sample Answer:

Title: The Silent Killer: Pollution and Its Remedies

Pollution is one of the most pressing issues facing our world today. It is caused by various factors, including industrial waste, vehicle emissions, and improper disposal of plastics. The consequences of pollution are dire, ranging from health problems like respiratory diseases to environmental degradation such as global warming and the destruction of ecosystems.

To combat pollution, we must adopt sustainable practices. Governments should enforce stricter regulations on industries, and individuals can contribute by reducing waste, recycling, and using public transport. Planting trees and supporting clean energy initiatives are also effective ways to mitigate pollution.

It is our collective responsibility to protect our planet for future generations. Let us act now before it is too late.

Sample Answer:

Speech on African Child Day

Dear friends, respected authorities, and fellow children,

Today, as we celebrate African Child Day, we must remember the rights and obligations that come with being a child. According to the United Nations Charter, every child has the right to education, protection from abuse, and access to basic needs like food and shelter.

However, with these rights come obligations. We must respect our elders, obey the law, and contribute positively to our communities. If we fail to uphold these obligations, there are legal consequences, such as fines or even imprisonment.

Let us all work together to ensure that every child enjoys their rights and fulfills their obligations. Thank you.

SECTION C: READING COMPREHENSION (10 MARKS)

Read the following passage carefully and then answer the questions below it, using your own words as far as you can.

Most of the young women in some areas of Mobololand speak simple English, but are unable to read and write. As children, they had no opportunity to go to school, but as time goes on, they are beginning to be interested in reading, writing English and French. "It is never too late to learn", said Aisha, a young lady from Mobololand. "People here used to think that women's education was important. For the people of my area, women ought to stay at home, do the housework, get married, and have children."

"I have no time for such beliefs", replied Mariama. "Those who say those things make me angry. Look at Mrs Egogo, the Maths teacher in our school village; she has no husband and earns her living very well. When you go to the city, you find so many women teachers, doctors, engineers, and even architects."

"Many families in my area are very poor", said Amira. When money is available for education, it is the boys who are the first to have their fees paid. It is said that girls will soon get support from their husbands."

"Look at my case: My father Amadou has two children, a boy and me, and he could not send both of us to school because he is too poor. In addition, my mother is always sick and cannot take care of the home. So my father needs me at home. What would you do if you were him?"

When a girl does not go through formal education, she cannot read a magazine, write letters, or read instructions on a medicine packet. If she wants to read or write a letter, she gets someone to do it for her. So she has no privacy, since people know about her private life.

A new school for adult women is going to be opened in a village near Mobololand. The only entrance qualification for the school is the desire to learn. Mama Myriam, aged 45, has a lot of that! She says that her education will help her family: "I will never have a problem with my husband because we both earn money and there will be peace in the family. Even when I have a good education, I will always obey and respect my husband", she concludes.

QUESTIONS

1. Give two reasons why girls are not allowed to go for formal education. (2marks)

2. Answer True or False (1 mark)

- a. Someone who cannot read and write is an illiterate _____

SECTION C: READING COMPREHENSION (10 marks)

Questions:

1. Give two reasons why girls are not allowed to go for formal education. (2 marks)
Answer:
 - (a) Many families are poor, and when money is available for education, boys are given priority.
 - (b) Some families believe that girls should stay at home, do housework, get married, and have children.
2. Answer True or False (1 mark)
 - (a) Someone who cannot read and write is an illiterate. (True)
 - (b) Mama Myriam is not interested in education. (False)
3. Name two things that a woman who has not received formal education cannot do. (1 mark)
Answer:
 - (a) She cannot read a magazine.
 - (b) She cannot write letters or read instructions on a medicine packet.
4. On what condition are women admitted to the village school? (2 marks)
Answer: The only entrance qualification for the school is the desire to learn.
5. Why do such women not have privacy? (2 marks)
Answer: They cannot read or write, so they have to ask someone else to do it for them, which means their private life is exposed to others.
6. When parents are poor, do you think it is good for them to send only the boys to school and leave the girls? Give your reasons. (2 marks)
Answer: No, it is not good. Both boys and girls should have equal opportunities for education. Educating girls can help improve the family's financial situation and contribute to the community's development.

To:
The American Embassy
Address of the Embassy

Subject: Application for Free Computer Training

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing on behalf of the youths in Gombe Village to apply for the free computer training sessions offered by the American Embassy. Most of the youths in our village lack basic computer skills, which limits their opportunities for employment and further education.

We believe that this training will greatly benefit our community by equipping the youths with essential computer skills. We would need computers, internet access, and a qualified trainer to conduct the sessions. The training could be organized in the village hall, which is spacious and accessible to all.

Thank you for considering our application. We look forward to your positive response.

Yours faithfully,
Hawa Essono

Topic 2: Cyber Criminality

Sample Answer:

Cyber Criminality

Cyber criminality refers to illegal activities carried out using computers or the internet. Some common cyber crimes include hacking, identity theft, and online fraud.

To avoid being a victim of cyber crime, it is important to take precautions such as using strong passwords and avoiding sharing personal information online. Additionally, one should be cautious of suspicious emails and links.

Topic 3: Responsible Use of Social Media

Sample Answer:

Responsible Use of Social Media

Social media refers to online platforms like Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram that allow users to share content and interact with others. While social media has many advantages, such as staying connected with friends and accessing information, it also has disadvantages like cyberbullying and addiction.

To use social media responsibly, one should avoid sharing personal information, be respectful to others, and limit screen time to avoid addiction.

SECTION C : READING10marks

Carefully read the following passage and answer the questions that follows.

Ngum's Mobile Phones

I am Ngum. I have a mobile phone and I really love it. I had always wanted to have a phone like my friends, but my parents said I couldn't have one until after my GCE O- Levels.

So, two years ago, they bought me this phone. I was happy and proud to also own a phone. I always keep it in my bag or in my pocket so it won't fall out or get stolen. I always answer calls from my parents and my friends. It's a great tool for communication. I would love to take it to school if we were allowed to !

My phone has a calculator and a calendar, so I sometimes use it to do my math's homework and check the time. It is also a very good information tool. Sometimes I connect to the internet and read news, emails or connect with friends on social network platforms.

Last week, we had a school excursion to a factory. I took some pictures and showed my parents when I got home. They were happy to see the pictures and even suggested that I study to be an engineer so that I can work in that factory.

A month ago, my brother and I went to the forest to get some firewood. He was bitten by a snake. I didn't know what to do. There was nobody to help. Then I thought about my phone and used it to call our parents, who called for medical help. That saved my brother.

Sometimes, people are irresponsible with their mobile phones or even abuse them. Some people do not bother to answer their calls and others post or forward abusive messages or fake news. I am not a mobile phone addict, but I feel unsafe without my phone. It's also very useful to me.

QUESTIONS

- 1) How did Ngum get her mobile phone ? (2 marks)

- 2) Can she take her mobile phone to school ? (2 marks)

- 3) What does she use it for ? Give two (2 marks)

- 4) What practical problem did she solve with her phone ? (2 marks)

SECTION D: COMPOSITION (10 marks)

Topic 1: The internet has come to stay even though people have decided to misuse it. In your work, clearly explain 4 (four) disadvantages of the internet.

Sample Composition:

The internet has become an essential part of our lives, but it also has several disadvantages. Firstly, the internet can be a source of misinformation. Many people spread fake news, which can lead to confusion and panic. Secondly, the internet can be addictive. People, especially young ones, spend too much time on social media, which affects their studies and productivity. Thirdly, cybercrime is a major issue. Hackers can steal personal information, leading to financial loss and identity theft. Lastly, the internet can expose users to inappropriate content, such as violence and pornography, which can have a negative impact on their mental health. In conclusion, while the internet is useful, it must be used responsibly to avoid these disadvantages.

Topic 2: There are many ways of communicating nowadays because of new inventions. In a letter to the president of the Bambili Youths Association, explain 5 advantages of using modern tools in communicating with examples.

Sample Letter:

Akum Desmond

The President,
Bambili Youths Association,
Bambili.

Dear Sir/Madam,

Subject: Advantages of Modern Communication Tools

I am writing to highlight the advantages of using modern communication tools. Firstly, modern tools like smartphones and social media allow instant communication. For example, WhatsApp enables us to send messages and make calls in real-time. Secondly, these tools are cost-effective. Sending an email or a message is cheaper than making a traditional phone call. Thirdly, modern tools allow us to share multimedia content. For instance, we can send photos, videos, and documents easily. Fourthly, they enable global connectivity. Platforms like Facebook and Twitter allow us to connect with people worldwide. Lastly, modern tools are convenient. We can communicate from anywhere, at any time, as long as we have an internet connection.

Yours faithfully,
Akum Desmond

Topic 3: Modern technology has brought so much relief in the economic, political, and social spheres. In a speech, look at the importance of some modern inventions, their uses, and their impact.

Sample Speech:

Ladies and gentlemen,

Modern technology has revolutionized our world in many ways. In the economic sphere, technology has improved productivity. For example, machines and computers have made work faster and more efficient. In the political sphere, technology has enhanced transparency. Social media allows citizens to hold leaders accountable by sharing information and exposing corruption. In the social sphere, technology has improved communication. Tools like smartphones and the internet have made it easier for people to stay connected, regardless of distance.

In conclusion, modern technology has brought significant relief in various aspects of life. However, we must use it responsibly to maximize its benefits.

Thank you.

D: COMPOSITION (10 Marks)

Option 1: Advantages and Disadvantages of ICTs in Our Lifestyle

ICTs have transformed modern life significantly. On one hand, they provide numerous advantages such as improved communication, access to vast knowledge, and convenience in daily tasks. For example, video conferencing tools allow us to connect with people globally, while online banking simplifies financial transactions. However, there are disadvantages, including addiction, cybercrime, and the erosion of traditional values. Overuse of social media can lead to mental health issues, and excessive reliance on technology may reduce face-to-face interactions. Thus, it is essential to use ICTs responsibly and balance them with offline activities.

Option 2: Netiquette for Facebook Forum

Forum Name: Youth Empowerment Network

Objective: To promote positive discussions and share resources for personal and professional growth.

Netiquette Rules:

1. Respect others' opinions and avoid offensive language.
2. Post relevant content only.
3. Avoid spamming or promoting unrelated products.
4. Use proper grammar and punctuation.
5. Report inappropriate posts to moderators immediately.

Option 3: Speech on Internet Usage

Dear Village Authorities and Youth,

Today, I want to address the growing concern about internet usage in our village. While the internet offers immense opportunities for education, skill development, and global connectivity, misuse can lead to negative consequences. For instance, excessive gaming or social media engagement can hinder academic performance and community participation. However, when used wisely, the internet can enhance learning, provide job opportunities, and foster innovation. Let us embrace technology responsibly and ensure it serves as a tool for progress rather than distraction.

Thank you.

Option 4: Letter to Mother

P.O. Box 64, Tiko
abelboka@hotmail.com

Dear Mother,

I hope this letter finds you well. I recently bought you a new phone, and I wanted to share some tips to maintain its condition and extend its lifespan. First, always keep the phone clean and avoid exposing it to water or extreme temperatures. Second, charge it regularly but avoid overcharging overnight. Third, install trusted apps only and update them frequently. Lastly, use a protective case and screen guard to prevent damage.

With love, Abel BOKA

SECTION C: READING COMPREHENSION (10 Marks)

Read the passage below carefully and then answer the questions that follow; Use as much as possible your own words.

Many people ask the question: "Is it safe to write and accept cheques?" the answer is simple. As with all financial transactions, there are dangers and you need to be aware of these dangers. Cheques are a convenient way of dealing with transactions as few people want to carry a lot cash around and not everyone has or likes to uses a credit card.

So what are the dangers? First of all, cheque can get lost or stolen. To prevent the cheque from falling into the wrong hands and cause the loss of your money, you can cross the cheque.

Crossing is a simple way to protect the drawer and payee of a cheque. Crossing prevents fraud and wrong payments. Crossing a cheque means drawing two parallel lines across the face of the cheque. Crossed cheque may only be deposited at the bank into the account of the payee. Nobody can present a crossed cheque at a bank and receive cash.

There are different ways of crossing a cheque. Generally, a cheque is crossed when two parallel lines are drawn on the face of the cheque. Word such as "&Co", "Not Negotiable" or A/C payee only' can also be written between the two parallel lines.

The other danger with cheques is that the drawer may not have sufficient funds in his or her account. If this happens, the cheque will bounce and the payee will not get money. The drawer can get into trouble with the bank for writing cheque that bounce. For example, their account may be closed and they will have to pay additional bank charges. Cheque accounts need to be used in a responsible way.

SECTION C: READING COMPREHENSION (10 Marks)

Questions:

- 1) What is the text about?

The text is about the safety of using cheques, the dangers associated with them, and how to protect oneself from fraud.

- 2) According to the passage, why do many people use cheques?

Many people use cheques because they are a convenient way of dealing with transactions, as few people want to carry a lot of cash, and not everyone has or likes to use a credit card.

3) How can a cheque be crossed?

A cheque can be crossed by drawing two parallel lines across the face of the cheque.

4) What are the words that can be written on a cheque that is crossed?

Words such as "&Co", "Not Negotiable", or "A/C payee only" can be written between the two parallel lines.

5) Name two dangers associated with a cheque for transaction.

- The cheque can get lost or stolen.
- The drawer may not have sufficient funds in their account, causing the cheque to bounce.

6) Explain what it means when a cheque bounces.

When a cheque bounces, it means that the drawer does not have enough money in their account to cover the amount written on the cheque, and the payee will not receive the money.

7) Would you accept an uncrossed cheque as payment for something? Give a reason for your answer.

No, I would not accept an uncrossed cheque because it is not secure. An uncrossed cheque can be cashed by anyone, increasing the risk of fraud or theft.
