SECTION C : READING COMPREHENSION (10 Mrks)

Interacting with Others

Nobody can live in self-sufficiency these days. Both the young and old need to communicate with one another. We interact with people in and out of our families for different reasons. Learning about other cultures is very important. There are so many tribes in our country Cameroon and the world. So, we must interact with peers, friends and neighbours in order to learn about others.

Traditional practices, ideas, values, and behaviours are all part of culture. Interacting with others also helps us to learn other languages. We need to understand what others say if not there will be a communication barrier. Social interaction will make us know ourselves and others even better. Finally, social interaction will help us know that other people behave differently because their environment of origin has influenced their way of life.

Answer these questions based on the text.

a) Give two synonyms of the word 'interaction' from the text.

b) Name three aspects of culture from the text.

c) Why is it important to learn a language?

d) Knowing ourselves is

e) Why is social interaction useful? Pick two reasons from the text.
